

About Us

We are ordinary travelers who enjoy the extraordinary cruise experience and want to share that experience with others. We do that in two ways. Cruise Bug is the place to learn everything that you always wanted to know about cruising or to help others become familiar with the cruising lifestyle. Cruise Bug has visited a variety of ports in the world from a number of different cruise ships. The knowledge gained in those ports and through those cruising experiences was the impetus for starting the Cruise Bug site. Our knowledge of traveling and cruising has led us to sell travel as Cruise Bug Vacations. Our goal is to help other cruisers experience a memorable vacation. We heartily welcome you to Cruise Bug. Your participation and contributions are most welcome and will make this cruise resource the best spot on the internet for finding cruise information.

You may support this site by visiting our sponsors and booking your cruise and other vacations travel through our home-based agency, Cruise Bug Vacations. If you need help selecting the perfect cruise or other vacation, feel free to contact us through the Cruise Bug Vacations site.